IN LENT

Down the cathedral steps she comes
With fashionable book demure;
For her all life's puzzling sums
Are solved within, where incense pure,
And gorgeous carvings overhead,
And carpets under feet,
And music soft, and prayer low said,
Combine to make it quite sweet.

Her carriage waits her at the door;
She sinks upon it discreet within—
Why should she now think any more
Of worldliness, or woe or sin?
If others could, she knows her worth;
Where others grope, the light she sees;
Her Heaven is but a grander earth—
Her earth is all a Heaven of ease.

She knows no doubt, she feels no fear—
Her faith is perfect in its way;
'Twould shock her fine, fastidious ear
To hear what scoffing skeptics say.
That Heaven to which her future points—
The final home her fancy paints—
Rejects the many, and anoints
A most exclusive set of saints.

The Man of Sorrows wandering down
The stony steps of Galilee,
The humble fishers, rough and brown,
Who cast their nets upon the sea—
Can she connect her lordly church,
Where every line is shaped to please,
Or trace it back by long research
To such plebian souls as these?

Nay! give the gentle saint her dues—
For lo! on sacrifice intent,
She lays aside her gaudier hues
To don the ashen silks of Lent;
And lest such penitential tasks
Should not suffice a crown to win,
She pays the price that Fashion asks
To bring the distant heaven in.

Adown the steps my lady goes
To where her liveried carriage waits;
Bright is the only life she knows,
And far removed the furious Fates:
And so the lofty creed she hears
Has come to be serenely sweet,
While skeptics' darts and scoffers' sneers
Fall harmless at her dainty feet.

Gifts at Luncheons.

[New York Letter.]

The extremely rich are just now trying to outdo each other in the magnificence of lunches and dinners. As nature revolts against more than a certain number of courses and a fixed quantity of food, the cupidity of the guests is catered to as well as their appetites. Accordingly, it is now regarded as the proper thing for Mrs. Nabob, when she gives a dinner or lunch, to provide from one to five presents for each one of her guests. While the most cultivated society will probably pronounce ere long its sentence of disapproval upon this return to the shoddy display of the Jim Fiskers, at present the custom is in vogue. Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt a few days ago gave a lunch to a number of lady friends, each one of whom carried away four elegant presents which were placed before her plate. The lunch cost several hundred dollars, and was of course in the highest art of the French master of the kitchen, and in itself was sufficiently complimentary to the guests. When the presents were heaped upon the favored friends of the rich man's wife, they made such a monument of magnificence that for a long period, in ambitious New York society, Mrs. Vanderbilt's entertainment will stand unsurpassed. Those who partake of these affairs say that they never carry away light hearts because of the feeling that in some way they are expected to do as much for society and they are keenly conscious that they cannot afford it. They would prefer a modest, chatty affair with no more of a souvenir than a tea rose and a sprig of geranium. Then they could meet the very rich with ease and entertain them with comfort, but the immense parade of wealth sadden their social delights.

Pierre Vrlcour, a Frenchman of Lockport, N. Y. claims to have invented a deep-sea telephone by which vessels can be kept in constant communication with the shore while crossing the ocean. He has discovered how to insulate a single wire so that immersion in water does not impair its transmission of electricity, and this wire is to be paid out from a cigar-shaped metalic float thirty feet long, in tow of the vessel. Leaden sinkers are to be automaticly detached every 200 miles to keep the wire on the ocean's bed, and if the inventors claims are realized, the ocean passage will lose much of its present isolation.

There are some men so homely that pretty women fly to them and marry them for pity's sake. Why, a man may be so ugly that his face actually aches from pain caused by its terrible shape, and yet that man will become owner and proprietor of one of the sweetest little women in the world.

"What is home without a wife?" asked the Yonkers Gazette. It is the dining-room in the parlor, the coal bin in the kitchen, the clean shirt in hiding, a depot for soiled clothes, a trysting place for divorced stockings, a smoking furnace, a private pandemonium, a cavern of profane rumblings, a lunatic asylum.

French advice: "Beware of women who wear high-necked dresses and always keep their eyes cast down. They are full of pride and jealousy—natures of iron and passions of fire. When these are wielded they are dangerous."

If a man would keep both integrity and independence free from temptation, let him keep out of debt. Franklin said, "It is hard for an empty bag to stand upright."

When are Women Most Lovely.

Loveliness in women, though it may vary in its character and manifestations at different periods of life is not the property of youth only. There is a great and undeniable charm in a fresh beauty of eighteen, to which experience and early romance lend, perhaps an additional fascination. A pretty girl of that age who has been untouched by care, and who knows of the world through imagination only, is a very delightful object; and many men wish they might take captive her first affections. Between eighteen and twenty-two the changes in a girl, so far as the charms of her person go, are not likely to become great: but by that time, by longer intercourse with society, and by natural development, she may get more companionable for men of maturity, and her carriage and self-control become better and greater. Those are important years in a young woman's life, the years during which, in our climate, the majority of the sexes are married. And yet from twenty-two to twenty-five or twenty-six a maiden may, and generally does, still farther advance in attractiveness, and adds to the store of her charms. She is still young, but she has cultivated some of the youthful fancies and feels some of the dignity of womanhood. No better ages than those in a maiden's life, and never is she lovelier. But why stop at twenty-six? What fairer women are to be found than many of those between twenty-six and thirty, and even older? Girls of eighteen may look on them as unsought old maids, and yet they are in their womanly prime, and may capture hearts that have been steeled against girlish fascinations. Oftentimes they make the best of wives, and men find a solace and companionship in their society which immaturity cannot give. They have the advantage of experience, and they have learned the lessons taught by longer contact with the world, while still they may not be averse to falling in love.

STRANGE FINDS.—The Bank of England has had no end of valuables committed to its keeping. The vaults of its establishment hold mouldering chests, deposited there for safety's sake, and apparently forgotten by their owners. In 1873 one fell to pieces from sheer rottenness, exposing to sight a quantity of massive plate and a bundle of yellow papers. The latter proved to be a collection of love letters of the period of the restoration, which the directors were enabled to restore to the lineal descendant of the original owner. In 1875 a tin box was fished out of the Seine containing more than five hundred letters addressed to divers persons in Paris. The box—set afloat miles above Paris—had been hermetically sealed, and was furnished with little metal sails, that it might catch the current of the river at every point; but it had failed to achieve a successful voyage, and laid at the bottom of the river for years with its freight of letters for the besieged Parisians, some of whom, however, had the pleasure of receiving them five years after date.

The Empress Eugenie's visit to Zululand will be so arranged that she will reach the spot where her son fell on the 1st of June at the very hour of the struggle and death. The Empress, in a recent interview with a French journalist, pointed out that the wounds on the Prince's arm attested the fierceness with which he defended himself. "This movement of covering himself with his arm," she said, "was an habitual instinctive gesture with the Prince; often in our leisure hours when I played with him in his youth, at the slightest sign of attack he covered his breast with his arm as with a shield."

There are foolish people who are worrying about "Mother Shipton's Prophecy." This frequently-published yarn, purported to have been written about 1448, and in it were foretold railroads, the admission to civil rights in England of Jews, and of the end of the world in 1881. The whole poem or prophesy was written by Charles Hindley in 1862 and was a pure invention of his own, composed to insure the success of a business venture, and after all, but one or two of the things named in it have come to pass. It was simply an ingenious and successful advertising fraud.

"An extraordinary discovery has," says the London World, "just been made, or is strongly believed to have been made, by the India Office. The sister of a Bedfordshire Baronet, who, being then a young girl of considerable beauty, was lost during the Indian mutiny, has been found in a harem at Mecca. The lady is now in India, and questions have been sent out to secure evidence of her identity, which, it is suspected, there may be a desire to conceal."

The Philadelphia Record says: There is just a possibility that some of the Astronomers who are sweeping the southern heavens with their glasses, on the lookout for the alleged comet, may be led into error. The fragments of a good many exploded Presidential booms are coursing about somewhere in infinite space.

Old Ben Wade never took 'mum' from anything human without resenting it. After his wife had "gone on" for about as long he would get up, upset his chair and walk out, and she was lucky to see him again that day.

SUPERIOR JUDGES.

There is a combined effort being made by the people of Bodie to remedy the grave trouble and annoyance incident to the frequent trips so many of them have to make to Bridgeport, in season and out of season, in response to the call of the Sheriff. On Saturday evening quite a number, representing the substantial citizens of Mono county, irrespective of locality, held a meeting at Justice Peterson's office to discuss the feasibility of securing at the hands of the Legislature the solving the knotty problem of how "not to go to Bridgeport." The situation was fully and informally discussed, and the opinion universally advanced was that the Governor and Legislature should be applied to for relief in the premises. In accordance with these views a Committee was appointed to prepare a bill to be submitted to the Legislature Authorizing the appointment of an addition al Superior Judge for Mono county, the new Constitution having provided for the present contingency. Whether the Judge, if any be appointed, can hold Court elsewere than at the County Seat, is a matter we leave to those better quallified to pronounce an opinion than ourselves. This we can say, however, that an additional Judge is very much needed, there being a large amount of business on hand, which is steadily accumulating, and the rapid increase in the near future, of the same on account of the large influx of population which is promised, and which has already commenced, makes the appointment imperative. We learn from good authority that the present Superior Judge is in full accord with the movement inaugurated and we do hope that the powers that be will grant us the relief asked.

SATURDAY NIGHT DISPATCHES.

COAST.

A High-toned Scoundrel.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—P. T. Benson one of the proprietors of the Grand Central Hotel, Oakland and Hurget, the porter of hotel, were arrested to-day on a charge of purloining valuables from the guests during the fire which destroyed the building last Tuesday morning. A large amount of stolen property has been recovered. It has been shown that the fire was incendiary, and it is believed plunder was a part of the programme.

Indians Defeated.

SAN FRANCISCO, March, 13.—A dispatch from Tucson, Arizona, says: On February 28th thirty United States troops, under the command of Lieutenants Conlon and Clark, met and defeated thirty Indians in Alamosa canyon, in the Sacramento mountains, New Mexico. The lodges and ponies were captured and taken to Fort Smith. The Indians are supposed to belong to Victoria's band.

Large Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—At 5:45 this morning a fire broke out in a coal yard near the corner of Greenwich and Taylor streets, and spread with such rapidity that several alarms were turned in. Shortly after a strong east wind carried the flames to the adjoining building. The yard and its contents were destroyed. A two-story building on the corner, occupied as a grocery and residence, was also destroyed with all its contents, the inmates barely escaping in their night clothes. A one-story cottage west of the coal-yard, and a two-story tenement house next beyond, were also destroyed, the occupants losing everything. Two horses and a carpenter shop in the rear were also consumed, and two houses on Taylor street, and a house at the corner of Greenwich and Roach alley was badly injured. Other surrounding property was more or less injured by heat and water. The loss will probably aggregate $25,000.

Destruction of Stock.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—A Victoria dispatch says: The express brings deplorable news from the upper country. Cattle, sheep, horses and pack trains are dying with great rapidity all through Nicola Hamploops, Managan and Lillooet. The destruction of stock is going on, nearly all the live stock will perish before spring. The loss is roughly estimated at $1,000,000. A very large number of stock-raisers will be reduced from affluence to poverty. The snow lies from three to five feet in depth, and there is no indication of a thaw.

Kearney Again.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—In the Police Court this afternoon Denis Kearney was placed on trial for use of vulgar language and threats to kill. The defense waived a jury trial. Testimony was introduced to show that the language was used as stated in the complaint. Kearney was the only witness for the defense, and in one of the cases only immaterially modified in his evidence the language as given in the complaint, and in the second case the language was admitted. Kearney counsel moved a dismissal on the ground that the language did not tend to create a breach of the peace, it being directed in one case against a person not present and the other against no one in particular, being a vague general threat. The case was submitted without argument and taken under consideration until Monday.

Bill Passed.

SACRAMENTO, March 13.—The Assembly this morning passed the bill to have the proceedings of the Constitutional Convention printed. It now goes to the Governor.

The Chinese Quarters.

J. C. Steadman, one of the Health Inspectors of Chinatown reports that the Chinese are doing something daily toward complying with the health laws. New sewers and closets are being constructed and other measures are being taken to guard against infectious diseases and overcrowding. There were 245 Chinamen discharged by the Southern Pacific railroad during the week, who have since left for Oregon. Large numbers are said to be leaving for the East. The Chinese newspapers and proclamations from the different companies have caused the Chinamen to comply with every demand of the Board of Health. There is considerable obstruction, however, from white property owners, who say that it is impossible to comply with the cubic air ordinance as it exists at present.

POLITICAL.

Cameron on Grant.

CHICAGO, March 13.—An Inter-Ocean Washington special says: Senator Cameron expresses much annoyance at the paragraphs respecting his position. He said this evening that he was in favor of Grant's nomination to the Presidency, and had no second choice. His confidence that Grant would be nominated on the first ballot was as strong as human confidence could be, and he believed that the contest would be practically settled long before the convention met in Chicago, Maine and Ohio might cast complimentary votes for their favorite sons but enough States would go there instructed for Grant to make a contest useless, and he anticipated that the first ballot would carry nearly all the States for Gen. Grant.

Interesting Decision.

CHICAGO, March 13.—Judge Blodgett rendered an interesting decision to-day in the advice to the United States Commissioner upon an election point. At the recent municipal election in Elgin, Illinois, about seventy voters employed in the milk condensing works were notified by their superintendent to vote the no license ticket. The license nomniee thereupon applied to Commissioner Hoyne to arrest the superintendent. Mr. Hoyne, being in doubt, refered the matter to Judge Blodgett, who today advised him that the United States Supreme Court in a similar case had held that the Fifteenth Amendment and Revised Statutes, Section 5507, contemplate protection in the right of suffrage only of former slaves, and free or white men do not come within these legal safeguards. The writ for arrest will therefore not be issued.

About the Washburne.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The Sun's Washington special says; It is well known in Washington circles that Grant will cut short his tour in Mexico and hurry back to the United States by the urgent advice of those who have his canvass particularly in charge. They say it does not look well for him to seem unwilling to stay in his country except when he is governing it on a large salary, The belief that Grant will be nominated at Chicago does not gain strength at the Capitol. It is admitted on all sides that Sherman is a failure. Blaine's weakness lies largely in his inability to secure delegates from any of the New England States except Maine and possibly New Hampshire. The opinion gathers momentum that after all, and in some way or other, the outcome will be E. B. Washburne. It is safe to assume that not a few of the Washburne men think so.

MAINE.

Governor Garcelon's Statement.

AUGUSTA, March 13.—Ex-Governor Garcelon was before Hales investigating committee to-day, and testified that he had not seen himself any of the returns up to the 17th of November. On the 25th of that month he knew nothing of any so-called scheme of counting out. He neither knew nor inquired concerning the politics of the persons to whom the certificates of election were issued. The certificates were brought to him to sign, and which he supposed were made out in accordance with the returns. He did not have time to examine every case. He did not know that certificates of election had been issued to seventy-eight Democrats and Fusionists and sixty eight Republicans. The matter was not discussed in his presence. Nothing was said about counting in a quorum of Fusionists. He had heard it on the streets referred to incidentally. He first learned of the counting out through the paper, and was splendidly surprised at the result of the certificating. It has been his rule to decide individual case on their merits. If he signed any certificates that were wrong, the facts were falsely put before him. No one was counted out. He supposed his council to be composed of honest and honorable men, who had complied the tabulation according to law. In the cases where there was any question, he looked into the matter himself. He had acted honestly. Certain rules had been laid down by the Constitution, the laws and the Supreme Court, which rules were applied to the returns.

EASTERN.

Fire and Loss of Life.

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 13.—The dwelling of Richard Johnson, on his farm near Denison, was burned Friday morning about 3 o'clock. In the house were Johnson and wife and nine children. All escaped except two girls, eight and nine years of age, who were burned.

Female Suffrage.

MADISON, Wis., March 13.—The Senate has concurred in the house resolution for female suffrage in Wisconsin by a vote of 19 to 11.

Superior Court Judges.

A meeting of citizens was held at Judge Peterson's office on Saturday evening to consider the proposition to ask the Legislature to give Mono County an additional Superior Judge. There was a fair attendance, the members of the Bar being present in goodly numbers.

The meeting was called to order by Judge McQuaid, and C. B. Richardson appointed Chairman, and A. Vaenberg, Secretary.

Judge Owen stated the object o. the meeting —to 'ask the Legislature to pass a bill to allow Mono an additional Superior Judge, and that he be allowed to reside and hold Court in Bodie.

Judge McQuaid read the section of the Constitution regarding the increase of Superior Judges for any one county, and made a few remarks regarding the inconvenience of attending Court at Bridgeport, and offered a draft of a bill and petition to the Legislature.

Judge Owen presented a form of petition from Col. T. W. W. Davis, which was read.

Mr. Love moved that a Committee of five be appointed to take the two petitions and boil them down into a new petition.

Judge Owen made a few remarks relative to the expense of going to Bridgeport to attend to suits; and in regard to the great length of the Court Calendar.

Judge Hetzel said that all were in favor of a Court at Bodie but that nothing should be done too hastily. There might be a constitutional objection to holding a Court away from the County Seat.

Mr. Love's motion was carried, and the Chairman appointed Love, Owen, McQuaid, Miner and Hetzel. Mr. McQuaid thought some business men should be put on the committee, and not all lawyers.

Mr. Owen would withdraw in favor of Mr. Boone.

Mr. McQuaid moved that the Committee should be doubled, which motion prevailed. The Chair appointed Messrs. Boone, Wolf, Page, Foulke and Dr. Summers, as the additional members. After some discussion as to the time of the Committee reporting it was resolved to adjourn sine die and allow the Committee to go on and prepare the bill and draw up a petition to be signed by our citizens. The Committee met immediately after the meeting adjourned, and prepared a bill to be forwarded to our Assemblyman Wasson.

BELVIDERE.

W. P. Holmes, Supt.

Official.

"The joint south drift is in to-day 109 feet. This is about the point at which I have estimated that the ledge crosses our east side line and into the Bulwer ground. As soon as the surveys now in progress are completed, and the point on the line established to the satisfaction of both parties, our interest in this joint work will cease, the Bulwer Company doubtless continuing the work in their own ground. The ledge in this drift has maintained its full width, say four feet, a portion of it ore of good quality, all of which has been carefully assorted and stored underground for future extraction. The main west crosscut is in 96 feet, without special change to note. No work has been done in the main north drift since last report. From the top of the upraise the north and south drifts in the ledge have been continued without interruption. The south drift is now in 39 feet, and the ledge continues its width of four feet between the walls, carrying from 18 inches to two feet of good milling ore. This drift should soon reach the point directly over where rich ore was first encountered in the joint south drift, say 75 feet below. Our great improvement has been in the north drift from the top of the upraise. At date of report we had just intersected the main shaft with this drift, and were compelled to leave the ledge and cut arround the shaft to the east. This work has been completed and the drift extended in the ledge 23 feet north of the shaft, showing a steady improvement in this direction. Yesterday the ledge showed 4 1-2 feet between the walls of clean ore, fully half of it rich. To-day we have a horse in the middle of the drift, but the ledges seem to have correspondingly widened, and the horse shows signs of pinching out as we advance. I estimate the value of the present face of ore in this drift at $72 to $100 per ton. Judging from the strength, value and character of the ledge in this drift, I feel justified in starting a drift north in the ledge from the 200-foot level station, believing that I will soon reach the same ore chimney. It will be remembered that we only run east and west crosscuts. The ledge being of low grade, and somewhat broken and poorly defined, it was decided to sink the shaft 100 feet, rather than do any drifting from this level. The new north drift referred to was only started last night, and is now in about four feet, showing no particular change. The late heavy storms have interfered with the moving of the machinery, but by to-morrow morning (the 12th) we will have it all on the ground. Until the storms are over, the roads passable and the saw mills start up, we can do but little toward the erection of the hoisting-works and machinery; but no time will be lost in getting everything under way as soon as practicable. Meantime our work under-ground will be directed to the following and opening of the ore body, laying out the work for future stops, and the extraction of ore when our machinery is ready."

JUPITER.

W. P. Holmes, Supt.

"On the 500-foot level the west crosscut from the main shaft is in to-day 137 feet, and the west crosscut from south drift No. 2 is in 85 feet. In both, the character of the ground is much improved, and is working well, and I hope before many days to report a development in this direction. I have to-day shipping bills from Carson, covering shipment of pumping machinery. The machinery already here is being rapidly placed in position."

STANDARD.

Wm, Irwin, Supt.

The new shaft has reached a depth of 819 feet. On account of having to do some work in the shaft at Bulwer tunnel station during the week, sinking was stopped for two days: there is no change to note in the character of the rock passed through. The crosscuts, 700 feet level, are making the usual progress, with no change to report. The north drift from the east crosscut, 500 feet level, is in 105 feet, making a progress for the week of 15 feet. No work was done since last report in running south drift 385 foot level, on account of running the east crosscut to connect with the north drift on the West Standard vein. This connection, when made, will enable us to hoist ore from the West Standard, and Gildea ledges through the new shaft. The upraise from the south drift has reached a height of 89 feet—progress for the week 14 feet. The ledge is 5 feet wide of rich ore. The upraise on the Cook ledge has been extended during the week 12 feet, making a total of 80 feet with a ledge in the top 2½ feet wide of good milling ore. The north drift, East ledge, 300 foot level, incline, has been advanced since last report, 10 feet—total distance 209 feet; the ledge here is 2½ feet wide and is looking well. The south drift from the west crosscut is in 230 feet, progress during the week 15 feet. This drift shows a ledge in the face 3 feet wide of fine ore.

There is no change to note in the stopes, which are looking about as usual. On the 385 foot level, north of the crosscut, we now have the hanging wall. The vein at this point is 78 feet wide from foot to hanging wall, and is all ore except 5 feet of "horse" at about the center of the vein. In the West Standard stopes the ledge is 5 feet wide with no change to note in the quality of the ore. The Gildea yielding the usual amount of good milling ore.

BULWER CON.

Wm. Irwin, Supt.

During the past week the north drift on the Ralston ledge has been advanced 12 feet, making a total distance from the tunnel of 103 feet. The ledge is three feet wide and continues to look well. The south drift is in 106 feet—progress since last report 14 feet. The ledge in the face of this drift is 2 feet wide of good ore. The stopes are looking well. In the south drift on the Ralston vein are stoping from a ledge 3½ feet wide of good ore. The ore now being milled at the Bulwer-Standard Mill is doing well.

SUMMIT.

Wm. Irwin, Supt.

The north drift 531 foot level, is in from the shaft 145 feet, having been extended since last report 15 feet. This drift shows in face a vein 2 feet wide. The north drift has been run during the past week 16 feet, making a total distance of 162 feet, with a ledge in the face 3 feet wide. The upraise from this drift 93 feet south of the shaft, has reached a height of 52 feet, progress for the work 24 feet. The ledge is 2½ feet wide.

DOUBLE STANDARD.

Wm. Irwin, Supt.

The north drift is now in 10 feet from the crosscut, showing a vein 3 feet in width of good ore. The south drift has been run 12 feet, with a ledge in the face of the drift 2 and one-half feet wide. Samples taken from both the drifts during the week show an average assay of $48 55 per ton. We started a winze to-day in the north drift, at a point where the ledge is four feet wide.

SOUTH STANDARD.

D. C. Norton, Supt.

Resumed sinking main shaft on Monday last. Making excellent headway, the rock breaking and working well. There is but little water making from either the crosscuts or bottom of the shaft. The shaft is being timbered as depth is made, and every thing is in readiness for placing the pumps in position when water is encountered, making it necessary.

MARYLAND CON.

John G. Beckstrum, Acting Sup't.

Have started crosscuts, east and west, from the 500 foot station. Everything about the mine is working well. John T. Beckstrum who has been at the mine for a long time, has been appointed acting Superintendent.

AN ABORTION.—An inquest was yesterday held on the body of Sarah Burns, who died suddenly on Saturday morning, the cause of death having been announced as a "severe cold" in yesterday's papers. The testimony of Doctors Roe, Stevenson and Robertson showed that it was a plain case of abortion. Coroner Deal adjourned the inquest until this morning, when it will be resumed at the office of Love & Whitehill. We have every confidence in Dr. Deal, that he will give this affair a thorough investigation, as there are ugly rumors afloat that this is not the first case of the kind that has occurred in this town, and it is about time that parties guilty of such practices were punished.

STILL BAD.—The roads between here and Carson are still in a bad condition, consequently our mails do not arrive till late in the afternoon.

ANOTHER OUTRAGE.—About 12 o'clock last night Pat Shea, a miner, went to the house of a girl, known as "Sailor Jack," and demanding drinks refused to pay for them, whereupon she ordered him to leave. Instead of so doing, he beat her over the head with his dinner pail, inflicting several severe gashes. The officers are on his track. This woman beating is a disgrace to our town, and we trust a severe example will be made of this case.

MILL AT HOMER.—Two large smoke stacks left here on Saturday for Hill and Hollis Sawmill at Mill Creek. The mill will be completed and runing in a few days, when lumber will be plenty in the new district.

REDUCED.—A number of the Noonday miners have been discharged—10 hour shifts having been substituted for the 8 hour ones.

SUSPENDED.—The Mammoth City Times has suspended publication. This leaves the Herald alone and Barnes is lord of all.

COLD.—On Friday night the thermometer stood at 19 degrees below zero.
